HIGH CHURCH

Formally the Fortitude Valley Primitive Methodist Church, High Church is a heritage listed building, built in 1876 by John Smith & Sons. On the 1st of March 1876, several foundation stones were laid; with the building completed in about five and a half months. In 1977 the congregation joined with the Fortitude Valley Presbyterian Church and combined to form the Uniting Church. The church building on the Brunswick Street site was no longer required and was sold to the Queensland Potters Association in 1982.

In 2005 a major project was undertaken to construct a new gallery building on street level with the church building above it. In early 2014, the property was purchased in its entirety and the rest is history...

For nearly 150 years,
people have celebrated life at High Church.

Make your special day a part of Brisbane history.
